A Divine Blessing from a Spiritual Master

- ♥ Did you ever think that chasing Enlightenment is a never ending journey?
- ♥ Or that you have to travel to the Himalayas to find a Guru?
- ♥ Or do you actually know anyone who became enlightened?

These answers may be right on your doorstep!

David Ashworth is the living embodiment of someone who attained the purified heart of the Guru in his own lifetime. You can taste the beauty and perfection of the God-consciousness when you look into his eyes during Darshan – a Divine Blessing. When David's Light touches you, you have no doubt that something very special is happening in your heart.

David's Background

David was and still is an ordinary, everyday guy. Fun loving with a sharp wit and edgy sense of humour on the outside, but the inside has been totally transformed over a period of some 25 years. In the early 90s David ran his own typesetting company until suddenly, light began to emerge within him. Within 3 years his life had totally changed and he was working as a full time healer with a practice in Manchester.

In September 2004, his Guidance asked him to close the door and walk away from his very successful practice, which he duly did. In January 2005 he experienced a further almighty awakening where he barely slept for 6 months as light and teachings were poured into his heart. These formed the foundation of The Emerald Heart School of Enlightenment. The teachings revealed a pathway that was to lead to the complete purification and opening of his heart.

In December 2015, David's Guidance asked him to walk away from the school and gift it to the Elders whom he had trained. He acted immediately and resigned that very day. Two months later in February 2016 he was given the ultimate gift of blazing fire that revealed the God-consciousness in his heart. Now anyone can experience this God-consciousness through the Darshan experience with David.

By March 2016 David had conducted his first DARSHAN for a group in London, not knowing what the outcome would be. The results were dramatic, eye opening and profound. Some attendees had the complete experience of God working in their lives within only a few seconds of looking into David's eyes.

David says that for this 25 year period he has been driven relentlessly to seek the light, bringing forth into our world literally hundreds of ways of opening your heart and consciousness. All of these 'tools' have played a part in David's journey of inner transformation and he has left them here for the world to discover.

David has attained the purified heart of the Guru. He says that he is the living proof that we can all attain a great measure of enlightenment in this present lifetime. He found the way and so can you. Now you don't need to rush off to the Himalayas in search of an enlightened master. The English Guru is just down the road for you.
